REGISTRATION REPORT.

To His Excellency the Governor and the Honorable Council:

Herewith is submitted the ninth annual registration report, including the tabulated report of births, marriages, divorces, and deaths occurring in the State of New Hampshire during the year 1888, as returned by the clerks of the several cities and towns.

There were returned during the year 1888, 6,443 births, 3,379 marriages, and 6,854 deaths. The percentage of births, marriages, and deaths to each 1,000 of the population, according to the census of 1880, is as follows:

Birth rate . .	18.56	to 1,000	of the population	of 1880.
Marriage rate .	9.73	"	"	"
Persons married	19.46	"	"	"
Death rate . .	19.75	"	"	"

It should be particularly noticed that the return of births is decidedly defective and unreliable. There were 467 less births reported for the year than in 1887. The falling off is largely due to the deficient returns from the city of Manchester.

There was also a slight falling off in the number of marriages.

There was a larger number of deaths returned than in any year since we have had a registration, and we have every reason to believe that the record of deaths in our State is as complete as it is possible to secure under any system of registration; in fact, we believe it to be the most accurate collection of death records obtained by any State in the Union. This is due to the fact that a burial permit is required in the case of every death. The public are now thoroughly familiar with the operations of the law, and very few, if any, interments are made in violation of the requirements of the law requiring a burial permit. The death rate, as exhibited by the registration for the year, is higher than ought to exist in a State like New Hampshire, although it is lower than that of many states with even a less perfect registration than we have secured. The yearly return of births, marriages, and deaths, from 1880 to 1888, inclusive, is given in table 1.

It will be seen from the above table that the birth-rate is lowest in those counties devoted most exclusively to agricultural interests, while it is highest in the manufacturing counties. It will be seen that Hillsborough county gives much the highest rate, although the birth record of that county is particularly defective; but, for that matter, it may be said to be defective in all the counties of the State. But with the exception of Hillsborough county, the figures given probably approximate correctness in the relative rates of the several counties. The same remark will, in a measure, apply to the return of marriages, although in point of numbers returned the record is doubtless very nearly correct.

The total number of deaths returned for the year is probably very nearly correct; but the percentages placed against the towns and counties are unreliable, on account of the inaccuracy of the census of 1880 as a basis of calculation for the year 1888. It is well known that the population of Hillsborough county has materially increased since the last census was enumerated, hence the rate as given for that county, 24.40, is higher than actually exists. Until the next census is taken we shall have no reliable data upon which to make calculations of this kind, and any deductions to be drawn from the percentages given must be modified by these facts in order to approach correctness.

In accordance with the returns of former years, Table 5 presents a relatively larger birth rate among the foreign-born than from the native population. If the returns from Manchester and some other manufacturing places were complete this rate would be still further increased. The table gives births from American-born parents, 53.08 per cent; foreign-born, 29.61 per cent; one parent foreign-born, 12.35 per cent, and in 313 cases the parentage was not given. According to the census of 1880 the foreign-born population of the State was 10.45 per cent of the total. It is probable that the foreign-born population of the State is relatively somewhat larger now than in 1880; but with due allowance for this fact, it still holds true that the birth rate is much greater among the foreign-born than among the native population.
